Windsor to survey people of New England Electorate on Industrial Relations Reforms

Independent Member for New England, Tony Windsor is intending to survey by mail, the people of the New England Electorate to ascertain their views in relation to the Government's proposed Industrial Relations reforms.

Mr Windsor said he would use the survey as part of his decision making process and also to encourage people to have their say about the reforms.

The mail out of the survey will occur to coincide with the introduction of the Bills in the Parliament at the end of October and will allow constituents to access the Bills and the various arguments put forward by the Government, Opposition, Unions and business as well as community groups for and against the legislation.

“The survey of the people of the New England Electorate is very important to provide me with input into how I represent their views on this issue.

I urge people to let me know their thoughts as quickly as possible as there will only be a short period of time to provide feedback to the Parliament on the positive and/or negative impacts people believe the legislation may have on them,” Mr Windsor said.
