Schools in New England to get $8.88m

Public and Independent schools across the New England electorate will receive $8.88m from the Federal Government under Round 1 of the National School Pride Program.

Independent Member for New England, Tony Windsor has been informed of the successful schools by the Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Education, Julia Gillard.

Mr Windsor welcomed the Minister's announcement.

Under the National School Pride Program, every Australian school will receive up to $200,000, based on the size of the school, for maintenance and minor building works.

"Putting funds into our schools for construction and maintenance will help make the education of our children more successful by providing them with a better learning environment.

I welcome the Federal Government's initiative and thank the Minister for the direct financial support to the schools.

I'm sure the school communities appreciate the opportunity to improve their facilities," Mr Windsor said.

Schools to receive funding in Round 1 are attached and applications for Round 2 close on 8th May.
