Oldest “Hander-outerer” in Tenterfield

The Tenterfield Bowling Club was the scene for the Independent Member for New England, Tony Windsor to catch up with some of his supporters last Friday evening and was then down in Rouse Street on Saturday morning.

Mr Windsor was delighted to catch up with people from Mingoola, Jennings and Drake as well as from Tenterfield and very grateful for their support at the upcoming election.

He was particularly pleased to be able to catch up with Mrs Eileen Wilson who Mr Windsor believes would have to be close to being the oldest “hander outerer” in Australia.

Mrs Wilson turns 91 this year.

“When I was told that Eileen was joining us for dinner at the Tenterfield Bowling Club, I was thrilled.

“I met Eileen and her late husband, Bill a few years back when I presented him with an Australian Defence Medal for his Defence Force service.

“Eileen is a great example of living life to the full with her philosophy of doing something constructive everyday.

“I’m honoured to have her think that helping me during the election is included in her list of ‘constructive’ things to do.

“I thank Eileen and all of my supporters for the time and effort they put in to help in my re-election.

“It makes me realise even more, the responsibility I have in representing the people of the New England Electorate and one that I respect and cherish,” Mr Windsor said.
